Machinery Starts Registration New Drafttees

For Young Men To Report To Selective Service Office

Frankfort — The county's draft board, which also is registering men of Lyon and Crittenden counties, had not been named this week but Young, former chief of the Selective Service here, has accepted the position in the new board, he said Monday.

Reporting of area draft board personnel will be held in Paducah today, on call of Russell, State Selective Service director, to discuss procedure connected with the new board of men to serve in the Army and the Army Air Corps. The Navy expects to observe the board.

Governor Asks Aid Draft Registration

Frankfort — AP — Gov. Clements late Tuesday issued a proclamation calling on all Kentucky citizens to register in the new Selective Service Act.

The draft act declares "an armed strength to be achieved and maintained to insure the security of this nation," the governor stated.

men it needs via the new method.

Registration will begin here Aug. 30, for men born Aug. 30, 1922. Registration proceeds as follows: Aug. 31, for men born in 1923; Sept. 1, for men born in 1924; Sept. 2, for men born in 1925; Sept. 3, for men born in 1926; Sept. 4, for men born in 1927; Sept. 5, for men born in 1928; Sept. 6, for men born in 1929; Sept. 7, for men born before 1929.

Men whose birth dates appear above are required to register. Mr. Young said, but will not be inducted into the service until they are brought to their discharge with them when they register, he said.

Judge Clyde Wood had received no official notice of the names of citizens to serve as members of the Selective Service Board. Mr. Young said he has no objection to this either.

To Defer Draft ROTC Students

Frankfort — AP — College students who were enrolled in Reserve Officer Training Corps before June 24, 1948, will not be deferred from the draft until after completion of the course, the Army announced today. They must remain in good standing in their military and academic work.

The Army has an ROTC quota of 17,800 and the Air Force of 40,800. These quotas are filled among 213 colleges and universities.

Students eligible for deferment, ROTC students must agree to a commission in the Air Force, if and when called to serve not less than two years on active duty as subject to call by the Army or the Air Force, whichever branch he chooses.

Barkley To Make 3 State Speeches

Cooper Has No Assurance Deway Or Warren Coming To Ky.

Democratic spokesmen said at Louisville Tuesday they had been given to understand by the National Committee that Sen. Alben W. Barkley, Paducah, nominee for Vice President, will make at least three speeches in Kentucky.

It was believed the Democratic State campaign will be opened at Paducah or Mayfield. Date and place for the formal opening awaits word from Barkley, who is in the east for a series of conferences with members of the National Campaign Committee. The date is expected to be sometime in September.

Barkley also may speak in Louisville and in eastern Kentucky, probably at Pikeville, it was indicated by a party spokesman.

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby has appointed seven Democratic aides to assist him in a statewide registration drive. Rep. Noble Gregory, Mayfield, was named First District chairman.

Sen. John S. Cooper said he had not been given assurance that either the presidential or vice presidential candidate for the Republican party would speak in Kentucky before the general election, Nov. 2.

Service Stations Will Check Lights Of Cars

Frankfort — Kentucky State Police Commissioner Guthrie F. Crowe, in co-operation with the Kentucky Petroleum Marketers' Association and Kentucky Automobile Dealers' Association, has asked assistance of service stations and automobile dealers in a campaign to correct faulty lights on vehicles.

Herbert L. Clay, Louisville, secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Marketers' Association, secretary of the Kentucky Automobile and Low Ullrich, Louisville, secretary of the Kentucky Automobile Dealers' Association, have pledged full co-operation of their respective organizations in the campaign.

Service stations and garages will ask customer's permission to check lights and make necessary repairs to vehicles. After this has been done for a short time, the State Police will begin an enforcement campaign against motorists with faulty lights.

"Success of the program," said Commissioner Crowe, "depends upon the full co-operation of the driving public. We are striving to attain the utmost co-operation of all."

Accident records, Crowe added, show that rear-end collisions comprise a major percentage of accidents on the highways, largely caused by vehicles with faulty headlights and no tail lights.

Fire Prevention To Be Stressed

Kercheval Heads Committee For Annual Campaign Here

Appointment of a committee to arrange for the observance of Fire Prevention Week was urged in a letter from Gov. Earle C. Clements, read at Monday night's Council meeting. Fire Prevention Week will be observed early in October. Fire Chief C. E. Kercheval was appointed chairman of the committee with authority to name other members.

Upon advice of J. Gordon Lisansky, special attorney representing the city, it was decided to institute prosecution for violating a city ordinance rather than file an injunction suit against erection of a fence, or building, on S. Cave street and Varnum Trace in violation of an ordinance enacted 2 years ago. Warrants have been issued in the prosecution and the case will come to trial in police court this week.

A record yield from street parking meters was reported for last week, with an aggregate of $141.36. Sale of 625 city licenses for motor vehicles for 1948 was reported.

The session was attended by Councilmen Denham, Jake, Wadlington and Stone, Mayor W. L. Cash presiding.

The funeral was scheduled to be held Thursday morning.

Atop the casket was a single spray of American Beauty roses.

New System Urged In Rural Schools To Give Lure To Country, Not Cities

Rural schools in the United States and Canada have done such a successful job in preparing students to go to the big cities that emphasis should now be switched to training youth to appreciate the country and devise means to improve rural life.

This was the decision reached recently at the annual work conference on the organization and administration of rural education at Teachers College, Columbia University. Twenty-five county superintendents and other school personnel from rural areas in the United States and Canada participated.

Farm boys and girls continue to flock to urban areas, the educators reported, because vocational opportunities in small communities are not being properly interpreted or developed. Increasing decentralization of industry, they said, makes training in up-to-date trades possible and desirable through a country-wide training program in diversified occupations.

The group endorsed proposals to reorganize school administrative units. They said if larger areas pooled their resources they would be able to stretch their funds and facilities and offer richer programs. Such an intermediate unit as the county, they maintained, could provide vocational education, health services, school supervision and educational leadership for all its schools.

To stem the increasing cost of long distance transportation of pupils, the workshop suggested training high school students as drivers, provision of adequate public liability and property damage insurance at minimum rates and cooperative purchase of buses with state assistance. They also considered the possibility of county or intermediate ownership, maintenance and repair of fleets of buses.

Some form of Federal aid to education was proposed by the group as a means toward more funds among states. They ended equal distribution of public aid their resolution as follows: "It is very urgent that the Congress establish Federal funds for raising the standards of education in the poorer states."

Financial Campaign Is Over-Subscribed In One Day; Newspapers, Radio Stations, Sound Cars To Aid Registration Of Workers; 4,000 Needed To Qualify Princeton For Big New Industrial Plant

With preliminaries taken care of and newspaper advertising appearing over the section involved this week, groups of Princeton businessmen, working in cooperation with the Citizens Committee, will begin the task of taking a comprehensive labor survey in the 40-mile radius of this city next Monday morning, in the hope of bringing a big, new light metals manufacturing plant here.

In addition to the newspaper appeals for workers to register, radio stations in the towns which will cover the affected area, sound cars visiting each of the towns prior to the registration there, some 28,000 pieces of mail and other means will be employed to attract as large a sign-up as possible, Eugene Williamson, chairman for publicity, said this week. Others on this committee are Merle Drain, J. W. Creasey, Thos. J. Simmons and Julian Littlepage.

A financial campaign, to obtain donations of money from here, to be used to defray expenses of the labor survey and business and professional people other expenses the Citizens Committee may later incur, was conducted Monday, resulting in a total subscription of more than $2,000, which was in excess of the quota assigned. The Leader is advised.

Joe P. Wilcox is chairman of this committee, other members being R. S. Jacob, Dick Morgan, W. L. Mays, Glenn Farmer, Lee Cardin, Clyde Kercheval, Bill Hodge, Dr. Elwood Cook, John E. Young, Howard McConnell, Ralph Randolph, Hillary Barnett and Burhl Hollowell.

The manpower committee is comprised by R. S. Gregory, chairman, and Fred Jake and Mary Wilson Eldred.

Registration of persons who will indicate their desire for employment in the new factory, which may come to Princeton if all conditions are met, will be conducted in the K. U. office here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 23, 24 and 25. In other towns of the area as follows:

Eddyville, courthouse, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 26-27.

Cadiz, County courtroom, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 26-27.

Madisonville, U. S. office, Main street, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 30-31.

Dawson Springs, K. U. office, Monday, Aug. 30.

Hopkinsville, 708 S. Virginia street, Sept. 1-2.

Elkton, courthouse, Sept. 1-2.

Marion, K. U. Office, Sept. 1-2.

Sturgis, K. U. Office, Aug. 28.

Fredonia, Legion Hall, Aug. 27.

County To Have 4 Farm Classes

Two New Instructors Added To GI Veterans' Program Here

Caldwell county will have four classes in GI on-farm training starting September 1, instead of only two, as formerly.

The classes will be taught by Charles Hubbard, Wood Holloway, present instructors, and Robert E. Hawkins and Roy Anderson, Jr., newcomers to this field. Mr. Hawkins has recently completed a course in agriculture at Western State College and Mr. Anderson will finish a similar course at Murray State College this week, reporting for duty Monday, Aug. 25.

Classes will meet separately each week and jointly Saturday mornings at the Fredonia High School. Instructors visit each veteran-farmer on his farm twice each month, to inspect his work and to supervise the program.

Jaycees Donate $200 In Labor Survey Campaign

The Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce, by vote of its members, sent the financial campaign for funds with which to conduct the labor survey here and in nearby cities and towns off to a flying start. . . by donating $200 cash. It is remembered the Jaycees also made a very important donation to the new hospital campaign, when they kicked in more than $4,300, net from their football promotion, in 1946.

"We feel this labor survey is well worth the time, effort and money it will take," Sam Steger, chairman of the Industrial sub-committee of the Citizens Committee, said this week. "Even though we might not get the big plant we are trying for now," he continued, "it seems certain that with big industries desiring to re-centralize their manufacturing operations and the abundant supply of natural gas we will have, together with plenty of electrical power, Princeton will obtain a new industry in the near future. The facts we learn in the present survey will be valuable to us in the future and will obviate doing this work again the next time a concern becomes interested in Princeton," he concluded.

Louisville — AP — The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates Kentucky's 1948 lamb crop at 731,000, compared to 704,000 last year.

The number of ewes one-year-old and up on Kentucky farms last Jan. 1 was estimated at 647,000.

The national lamb crop this year was estimated at 20,467,000 or about eight percent lower than last year.

Mrs. W. S. Denham and daughter, Mrs. A. E. Childress and Mr. Childress left Monday for a trip through the Great Smoky Mountains.

Blind Corners Dangerous Here

A small gesture in the right direction was made by the City Council last week when it moved to prevent erection of a fence which would make another blind corner for traffic in Princeton; but a great deal more is needed.

All over town we have these blind corners . . . where fences, buildings, hedges and other more or less solid blocs prevent persons driving motor vehicles from seeing traffic coming their way at intersections.

We are a live-and-let-live people, so anxious to obviate frictions, and especially to have cordial relationships with our neighbors, that we tolerate almost any inconvenience, yes and even grave hazards to life and limb, in order not to provoke ill feeling. This can lead to tragedy, and certainly will, unless we move along the route blazed by the Council last week. Princeton is growing; and the number of vehicles here, especially motorized conveyances, is rapidly increasing. The old ways no longer provide a modicum of safety to those who drive in Princeton . . . so the old order needs must give way to the new.

At once we should invoke the aid of our city and highway police to prevent parking cars too close to intersections, another grave hazard here in Princeton; and then some fences should come down, hedges should be cut low enough to permit vision over them from drivers' seats or better still, removed where they endanger lives and property.

No matter how much we love the old ways and the traditional habits of yesterday, we who live in Princeton must step forward with changes brought to us by the machine age; or we shall indubitably regret it.

Real Community Loss

The community . . . but especially business and professional men who have come into frequent contact with Tom McConnell, will suffer a very real loss when this gentleman removes from Princeton to Madisonville, about September 1.

Tom, suffering as he does from a physical handicap that would render most of us petulant, disagreeable and hence, hard to get along with, is a source of inspiration and an example in human conduct that is inspiring, to say the least; and his often heard joking references to his infirmities invoke admiration for his great intestinal fortitude.

Always good humored, genial and hearty, Tom McConnell is everybody's friend. He has done a man's job exceedingly well and carried a load of work . . . as well as of suffering, from which many would have turned aside as beyond their capacities.

His conduct of his job has won the respect and admiration of the business people of this community and of the newspaper folk who know him, including every member of the Leader's staff.

We join in wishing Tom McConnell and Lowell Davis, a good printer, abundant success in their new venture; and will take leave of our neighbor editor with very real regret.

Kentucky On The March

Rotary And PTA Praised

By Ewing Galloway

With a population of only about 950 Irvington is blessed with two enterprising service clubs that work together practically all the time, the Rotary Club and the Parent-Teachers' Association. And what has been achieved in the last 4 or 5 years under the sponsorship and leadership of the two organizations puts Irvington on the honor roll for community progress. If the Committee for Kentucky ever gets around to bestowing medals on towns for civic achievements, I'm going to be present to nominate Irvington.

The town's fine school was one-third of a mile west of U. S. 60. There was no sidewalk, so the children had to use the road, which was dangerous, of course. The Rotary Club said something had to be done about it. There was a plan to have the municipality do it, but somebody in the club hit upon a better idea. The State Highway Department was asked to help. The department agreed to build the sidewalk if the community would give the right of way. The Rotary Club got the strip of ground, which had to be sheared off many home lots. In this the P. T. A. worked side by side with the Rotarians.

Back of the school there was a good sized gullied field used mainly as a rubbish dump. Bushes, briars and broom sedge completed the picture. The playground was a feeble pretense. There was hardly any parking space. This was not a problem. It was a job. And the Rotarians and the P. T. A. went to work. They had a bulldozer level the ground. Then a baseball ground was surveyed and a grandstand was built. In another corner of the area a softball diamond was set up, with backstop, benches and everything. That was last year. This year all the school grounds have been landscaped. Now the Rotary Club is going to provide floodlights for night games, baseball, softball, football.

The Irvington P. T. A. has spent liberally for equipment for a school lunch room, buying a piano and many other things the school needed. About 300 children eat in the school lunch room. During a recent drop-in visit to the Irvington Herald office, I asked Mr. and Mrs. George N. Wilson, editor and associate editor, respectively, how the two service clubs raised money to pay for the things done at the school. They said the P. T. A. raised money mainly by serving Rotary dinners during school months, and the Rotarians got direct contributions in cash.

Speaking of raising cash, a couple of years ago Irvingtonians got ashamed of their cemetery, which was a public repository for the dead but whose ownership nobody acknowledged. The Rotarians sponsored a plan to buy the cemetery in the name of the municipality and denude it. Civic leaders figured the cleanup job would cost $2,000. Editor Wilson suggested that they made $3,000 their goal to make it easier to raise $2,000. The drive collected nearly $4,000. So when the cemetery is beautified and plenty of gravel roads through it are built, there will be surplus money for other civic projects if the donors give their consent.

I mustn't overlook the Irvington High School Alumni Association, one of the few small community organizations of its kind in the state. It has contributed many conveniences to the school, such as a new stage curtain and replacement of many trophies burned when fire took the old frame school house ten years ago.

Another notable item. This is wholehearted cooperation between whites and colored people in community affairs. "If we need their help," said Mrs. Wilson, "they are ready to do what they can. If they need help from us, we give the help."

Speech And Print

Compare one of the noblest vehicles for the diffusion of thought with the newspaper, and we may gain a faint glimpse of the ubiquitous power of the latter. The orator speaks to a few hundreds; the newspaper addresses thousands. The words of the orator may die on the air; the language of the newspaper is stamped on tables imperishable as marble. The arguments of the orator may follow each other so rapidly that the majority of the audience may struggle in a net of ratiocination; the reasonings of the newspaper may be scanned without a fear of perplexity. The passion of the orator inflames an assembly; the feelings of the newspaper electrifies a continent. The orator is for an edifice; the newspaper for a world—the one shines for an hour; the other glows for all time. The orator may be compared to the lightning, which flashes over a valley for a moment, but to leave it again in darkness; the newspaper to a sun, blazing steadily over a whole earth and fixed on a basis of its own eternity.—Anonymous.

"YOU-ALL IS PLURAL
Come all of you from other parts,
Both city folks and rural,
And listen while I tell you this:
The word "You-all" is plural.
When we say "You-all" come down
Or "We-all shall be lonely;
We mean a dozen folks, perhaps,
And not one person only.
If I should say to Hiram Jones
For instance, "You-all's lazy
Or, "Will you-all lend me your knife?
He'd think that I was crazy.
Now if you'd be more sociable
And with us more often mingle,
You'd find that in the native tongue
You-all is never single.
Don't think I mean to criticize,
Or act as if I know all;
But when we speak of one alone,
We-all say "You" like you-all."

The Ohio movement to put women on the new draft boards seems to me to have merit. The women, bless 'em, suffer most when boys are drafted, would gain new insight into the whys of a draft army, might be won over to universal conscription . . . the only really effective way a democracy has to meet and perhaps forestall the big dictator nations.

Night Supervisor at the Jennie Stuart Hospital is Mrs. Joe Hanson, the former Charlene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. "Cowboy" Jones. US Steel News for July, a copy of which has just been sent me by Ken Johnston, superintendent of the big fluorspar mines in Crittenden county, has an excellent article entitled Crystals From Mexico . . . which is about fluorspar and the mines at Mexico, Ky. Fully 75 percent of US street lights are obsolete, authorities warn. They estimate 10,000 lives are lost and $500,000 property damage done annually due to traffic accidents caused by poor visibility on streets at night. We suffer from this trouble here; also, from lack of traffic lights at a few busy intersections.

The Somerset Journal carries the mellowing explanation of what causes the bad earthquakes in Japan:

A giant catfish lives underground, the Japanese explain. When he is angry and wriggles, there is an earthquake. On June 28, 1948 he wriggled four times within half an hour. Nine tidal waves crased over the western coast of Honshu. The Tokyo newspaper Mainichi called the tremors "as severe as Japan's 1923 earthquake," which cost 143,000 lives. Tokyo was shaken but undamaged. But Fukui, to the west, was "virtually wiped out," its mills destroyed and 52,000 inhabitants left homeless by fires that raged for more than six hours.

An experienced political observer here said, regarding John Y. Brown having carried the county, that the helicopter advertised this candidate so well he picked up a good many votes. Of course we know it pays to advertise.

Conie Lowry says all the peaches are about gone from the Experiment station trees. Elbertas are the only kind grown in commercial quantity the boss man said, but "dribbles" of other varieties have been coming on out there for two months . . . and these also are playing out. The Kentucky peach crop was right good this year.

For the first time since this observer lit here, no cars hauled voters to the polls in the primary election and if any candidate had a formal organization, or a campaign chairman in Caldwell county, he kept it a secret from us. I have always thought it a sad commentary upon citizenship that voters must be called for, delivered at the polls and then taken home, in order to get them to cast their ballots. This seems to me to be the entering wedge for loss of liberty, encouraging political dictatorship; but it is a long established practice in Kentucky, hence candidates and their most interested backers usually put up funds for cars.

Midway, a little town of 1,000 population between Frankfort and Lexington, has two fire trucks. Yet Princeton, with six times as many people, has only one; and not much has been accomplished in Chief Clyde Kercheval's move to get a second truck, to provide more protection in town and to serve homes in the county. Why is this?

The unusual heroine of novel is shown to us first as orphan child living with grandparents; then in high school at 13; and finally up and indulging in a secret lovers. Or she is presented in the author's words, "a casual humorous digression when the author drops a ship and speaks to us here as Mrs. Hutchins; she extracts from Georgiana's and back to the author's story. So it takes three to write a story, and maybe that's why it's good. Georgiana She confesses on her first in school: "Certainly I'm good, I have a wicked and I hate people."

How she got that way is gestured in part one. Part an interlude; part Georgiana mature, or as she can ever be. For always youthful, bold experiment, admitting as she or says that woman has principle purpose, which logical, and shouldn't away her time at anything.

Georgiana is not quite a individual a character as Hutchins is a writer. One sentence, may serve to say, you, but she can be very ceptive and, at times, taining.

Those who are making preparations to cut Burley should know that the crop is well ripened. If too much damage occurs to lower leaves, the tobacco should not be cut until top leaves are well ripened.

The field of Burley may be reduced by cutting the crop in the field. The crop is more liable to damage in the barn than ripe.

The tobacco is cut in the field and hung directly on the line. The butts of plants to be used for minimum labor should be cut in the field.

The tobacco should be hauled directly to the barn after wilting. No sunburn has taken place if there is sufficient shade. If barn space is not available, it might be best to cut the tobacco in the field and cure it on a scaffold, until cured rather than risk wilting in the barn.

During curing, the appearance of artificial heat not to exceed 100 degrees Fahrenheit. The tobacco should be dried to dry out the tobacco and prevent houseburn. Care should be used to not get tobacco too hot as the green color will be lost in the tobacco and quality result.

It is the most practical use for firing Burley. The grease drums may be used for burning coke by providing ventilators at the bottom of the grate for the coke to lay wide piece of tin should be used over this type of stove to prevent the heat from going up among the tobacco. Commercial coke stoves now on the market make the most efficient stove as heat can be controlled.

News From The Past

News representing lives, hopes, dreams and ambitions of those who made up the populace of Princeton and Caldwell county almost 40 years ago recorded nowhere but in the yellowed files of Twice-A-Week Leader of those years will be published as the regular Leader feature. The articles are reproduced just as the Princeton reporters, shortly after the turn of the century, wrote them.

June 11, 1926. Master Everett Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilson, was painfully and seriously injured Wednesday, when in some way he was thrown from his tricycle and in the fall sustained a deep cut in his leg, necessitating the attendance of Drs. W. C. Haydon and J. B. Wadlington. Ten stitches were required to close the ugly wound. The little fellow is reported as resting comfortably at this time.

June 18, 1926. The many friends of Mrs. J. A. H. Miller are delighted to have her home again, after having spent the winter months at Franklin, Ind., where she held the position as an instructor in the high school.

June 18, 1926. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis and little Miss Mary Lee Jones motored to Evansville to spend last week-end with Grandmother Davis. They report a pleasant trip and the fact that Mrs. Davis, Sr., is well and happy, which will be good news to her many friends here.

June 29, 1926. The following scouts have returned from Shawnee Camp, in Christian County: Kary Robert, Laban Kevil, George Alfred Akin, William Clinton Hayden, Ralph Cash, Grayson Harralson, George Catlett and Robert Wadlington. The boys are tanned and healthy as young Indians and report a wonderful time.

June 29, 1926. Misses Cleo Davis and Robbie Brown, Russell Brown and County Superintendent-elect K. R. Cummins came from Murray, where they are attending Teachers' College, to spend the week-end with home-folk.

THE GARDEN

By JOHN S. GARDNER
Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

Fall garden planting is a progressive affair that ends only with frost. The main crops are greens and table turnips, sown at weekly intervals as earlier crops get out of the way. Just which planting date is right depends on the weather and the black flea beetle. For this insect, DDT is a perfect control, but to make spraying or dusting possible, row-sowing should be done. Gardeners whose space is limited may well keep this in mind. DDT comes in 3 percent and 5 percent dust, or the 50 percent "wettable" form may be used in a spray, one level tablespoon a gallon of water. The critical time is while the seedlings are at the "heart-shaped leaf" stage, before the first rough leaves show.

The greens are kale, mustard, turnip tops and spinach. The best kale variety is Siberian, winter-hardy, and if harvested leaf by leaf and leaving the central bud, will make early kale next spring. Southern Curled is the popular mustard, but also to be considered is Tendergreen, sometimes called mustard-spinach. The spinach variety is King of Denmark, winter-hardy, and capable of making early spinach next spring, planted as late as Oct. 1. The best table turnip variety is Purple Top Globe.

There is another fall garden crop, an innovation to try, winter head lettuce. It should appeal particularly to gardeners who wish to get more value from their cold frames.

Seed-sowing time is in August, and for the seedling bed a space should be chosen that is shaded after 11 A. M. When the seedlings have from 2 to 4 true leaves they should be set in the frame in soil well enriched with poultry manure, spaced 8 inches square. If the frame is in the sun, a shade should be made of tobacco canvas or a "broken" shade of tree-trimmings and the like. Systematic watering should be done to push the seedlings all possible.

Late in September, the frame should be covered nights but opened daytimes and, when day temperatures drop to about 50 degrees, kept covered except for an hour about noon, to admit fresh air. If New York or Imperial is the variety used, there will be usable heads starting about 8 weeks after seeding, de-

Highway Employees Drive Carefully

Frankfort — A total of 1,822 Department of Highways automobiles and trucks were operated over 4,569,565 miles of Kentucky roads with 64 reported accidents during the three-month period ending June 30, the Division of Safety reports.

The division's report listed the average damage for each accident as $70.87. A total of 103 accidents of all types resulted in personal injury. The department employs 4,923 persons. "This report is most pleasing to all of us," commented Safety Director T. B. Smith. "We feel that careful driving by department employees will return splendid dividends in public good will. The work of the division is being directed toward a distinctive safety record."

"Seven of the nine highway districts had no automobile accidents during this period and the relatively few truck accidents recorded indicated great care in driving. Three districts came through with only one accident in 100,000 miles. The lowest of these records was one accident for each 41,000 miles of driving."

Sheep Worms Yield To Simple Mixture

An easy way has been found to handle stomach worms, one of the discouraging problems in raising sheep. A mixture of one part of a drug called phenothiazine and nine parts of salt kept before the flock practically insured worm-free sheep.

The mixture should be kept in a covered feeder to protect it against weather and to keep sheep from putting their feet in it. County agents have plans for feeders, which can be made on the farm.

Keep a supply of this mixture in the feeder, and have the feeder where the sheep can get to it easily. Keep the mixture fresh. Replenish every week or two, and stir it with a stick if it cakes. Ten pounds of the mixture should last a flock of 30 ewes two to three weeks.

The above information was taken from Richard C. Miller's circular on raising sheep, published by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Ask for circular 459.

How large the mansion of a tree,
How shadowy its halls!
The crooked stairs lead airy
To corridors and stalls,
Where leafy floors are lightly
laid,
And nothing's nailed or pinned,
And walls are boughs, and doors

To flutter in the wind;
Where balconies lead on and out
For swift departing wings—
And when a robin wants to

The first hay crusher in Daviess county has been installed by Foor Bros., operators of a large dairy. Red clover hay, baled seven hours after it was

What It Means:

Showing The Flag

By James J. Streb
Washington — For the first time in history the United States is "showing the flag" with warplanes instead of warships. Nine B-29 superfortresses are in England, ready to show Europe mass formations they didn't see during the war. Two more have just swung around the globe.

making a test of landing facilities which conceivably could be called upon to handle much larger numbers. (Three started the flight, but one crashed into the Gulf of Aden.) A squadron of jet fighters also is in England after crossing the Atlantic under its own power, with 75 more being sent by carrier to be based overseas.

America has been sending planes on goodwill missions for many years. One of the most famous was a circuit of South America in 1927. But the recent quick trip of 60 Superforts to England was hardly a "goodwill" mission. The Air Force let it be known that the planes flew with loaded guns.

The United States must solve some tough problems if it is to "show the flag" with armed bombers on a large scale. The flight to England was simple. It is a friendly country with ample airfields, largely built at our expense during the war and equipped to handle American

Recipe Of Week

An oven dish, which takes the place of meat in a menu, is a combination of lima beans and cheese. Here is a recipe from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Lima Bean-Cheese Casserole
2 cups cooked lima beans
2 cups shredded cheese
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chopped onion
2 cups tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
Combine half the cheese with beans, green pepper and onion and place in a baking dish or casserole. Make a paste of flour and 1/4 cup cold water and stir into heated tomatoes. Cook until thickened. Add seasoning and pour over lima bean mixture. Top with remainder of cheese mixed with bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 30 minutes, or until browned.

Menu: Lima bean-cheese casserole, fried eggplant, corn on the cob, cabbage slaw, rolls, butter and cantaloupe.

Western Kentucky Tries New Grains

New varieties of small grains are finding favor among farmers in Western Kentucky, according to County Agent Warren Thompson of Hickman county.

Kentucky No. 1 barley is outyielding all other varieties, he said. Average yield this year was 25 or 26 bushels an acre, which he said was five to seven bushels more than other varieties made. He found that this variety of barley stands up well, does not winter-kill as much as some other kinds, and its feeding qualities are okay. Jackson No. 1 is another barley showing up well in western counties, according to Thompson.

Improved oats which Thompson reported gaining in favor are Ten-X and Fulgrain. He was told they produced up to 90 bushels an acre. Clinton seems to be the best spring oats.

Coker No. 5 is the wheat that "is taking the day" in Hickman county, although Thorne wheat is holding its own, Thompson reported. His claims for Coker No. 5 include early maturity, little rust, short stems and strong straw. It weighs an average of nearly 60 pounds to the bushel, he said.

SHE CAN'T RESIST PRAISING RETONGA

Young Housewife Tells How Retonga Relieved Distress From Stomach Gases, Restlessness, Nervous Indigestion, And Sluggish Elimination

"I am feeling so good now that I can't resist letting others know how much I think of Retonga," happily states Mrs. George Sweet, well-known housewife of 486 W. 2nd St., Lexington, Ky. Mrs. Sweet gratefully continues:

"For years I surely did suffer from nervous indigestion and sour stomach. I had a pitiful appetite and just had to force myself to eat to keep up my strength. My food seemed to sour almost immediately and cause terrible gas pains in my stomach. I felt so high-strung and restless that it was all I could do to get a few hours sleep a night. I had to use harsh laxatives for relief of sluggishness and I lost a good deal of my weight."

"The relief Retonga brought me from my suffering was a pleasant surprise. I now eat heartily, enjoy my food, and never worry about nervous indigestion, gas pains or sour food. I have regained over three pounds and I just know I'll be up to my normal weight soon. I've left off harsh laxatives, too. I am glad to praise Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at Dawson's Drug Store.

LIME YOUR PASTURES

Every year more and more farmers are learning that good pasture is one of the most profitable crops that can be grown. Pasture grown on fertile soil is rich in protein, minerals, and vitamins. It is perfect feed for milk or meat animals.

If you haven't applied limestone or fertilizer to your pasture recently, now is the time to do it. It may take a year or so to produce a noticeable difference but it will be there.

You'll notice the difference in several ways:
1. Clover and good grass will crowd out the weeds and poor grasses.
2. More milk and meat from healthier animals.
3. Longer grazing season and less barn feeding.
4. Lower production costs, more profits.

Start your pasture improvement now by first applying the needed amount of agricultural limestone. It's the first step

Tips For Homemakers

Here are answers to some everyday problems of housewives from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

1. Walls painted with casin paint may be dry cleaned with a rubber sponge.

2. A good rug cushion helps prevent flattening of the pile of the rug and adds years to its usefulness.

3. Delicious sandwiches may be made by grinding raw vegetables, such as carrots, celery or cabbage, and mixing with salad dressing. The filling must be made daily to insure crispness.

4. Protect school books by making removable covers of plasticized cloth, which may be wiped off.

Midwest People Live Longer

New York, AP—The chances for long life in the United States are best in the Midwest, a study of death rates shows. "The best record for longevity in our country is found in the West North Central States—Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, the Dakotas, Nebraska, and Kansas," says the Statistical Bulletin of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. There the average length of life (expectation of life at birth) in 1939-41 was 65.23 years for white males, and 69.22 years for white females.

These life expectancies are three to four years longer than the Mountain States, which have the least favorable record. The Mountain States include Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah. The high death rate among the large Spanish-speaking population of Arizona and New Mexico is mainly responsible for this difference between the two geographical areas.

At the age of 45, men and women of the West North Central States still can look forward to the longest life. The expectation then is 27.56 more years of life for men, and 30.23 for women. At 45, the lowest expectation of life is in the highly industrialized northeast, the Bulletin finds. In the Middle Atlantic States of Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, men of 45 can expect, on the average, only 24.74 more years and women 27.56. Men of 45 in New England can expect 25.37 more years, and women 28.32 years.

The best record in preventing infant mortality was shown on the Pacific Coast. In the Mountain States area, the infant mortality rate was fully 50 percent higher.

"The variation in mortality and longevity from one area to another," the Bulletin says, "is due to a number of factors, including the degree of industrialization, density of population, adequacy and availability of medical and hospital facilities, climate, et cetera. An intensified effort to reduce the toll of premature death in the less favored areas would tend to equalize the mortality throughout the country at the level of the best areas."

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

To Investigate 'Speed Traps'

State Auditor Wants To Know Where Money For Fines Goes

Frankfort — State Auditor Harry N. Jones intends to turn his attention towards operation of "speed traps" in several sections of Kentucky.

What interests Auditor Jones is the fact of widespread complaints of speed traps conducted by magistrates and constables in different sections of the State. Inasmuch as fines collected from these sources belong entirely to the State, the Auditor wants to know if all the funds have reached the State Treasury.

The Kentucky Motor Transport Association, an organization of truckers, has called on its members to furnish details of

Better State Fair Promised Patrons

$50,000 In Premiums And $50,000 In Horse Show Awards Listed

Louisville — The 1948 Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville, Sept. 12-18, promises to be one of the biggest and best in its 45-year history, according to J. O. Matlick, manager.

"Many persons said the 1947 Kentucky State Fair was the best in history," Manager Matlick says, "but a determined Fair Board and an energetic staff of employees have been working diligently since the close of the 1947 Fair with only one thought in mind, to make the 1948 event bigger and better in every way."

Supporting Matlick are Governor Earle C. Clements, chairman of the Fair Board, J. R. Rash, president, and all the staff members.

In addition to increased premiums, among many improvements to be noted at the 1948 Kentucky Fair, will be a midway operated exclusively by local civic clubs, with all profits from concessions going to worthy charities; more emphasis on youth and educational exhibits, a policy of utmost courtesy from all employees, and a determined effort to make patrons' visits to the Fair the highlight of their year, both from a pleasure and profit standpoint.

Approximately $50,000 in premiums and sponsored prizes are offered for the various competitive exhibits and events, including exhibits by 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, county exhibits, livestock show, poultry show, tobacco show, merchants and manufacturers exhibit, farm machinery and other exhibits and events.

The Horse Show, under management of Thos. L. Clore, will offer another $50,000 in prizes. Events will be held for saddle, fine harness and roadster classes, equitation, hackneys and harness show ponies, walking horses, hunters and jumpers.

Each day of the 1948 Kentucky State Fair features special events and programs. Opening with a parade Sunday, Sept. 12, other days through the week will feature a State-wide beauty contest, fiddlers' contest, Farni Bureau Federation Day, barber shop quartette contest, high school band contest, baby health contest, soil conservation day and other special days.

In addition to a great show of the State's progress in education, agriculture, industry, home-making and conservation, officials promise visitors a variety of entertainment in the way of midway attractions, grandstand shows, serial artists and hippodrome acts.

Veterans' News

Taking advantage of the final month for easy reinstatement of National Service Life Insurance, which ended July 31, approximately 3,000 World War II veterans in Kentucky reinstated $18 million for a record-breaking month.

Although the easy reinstatement period is over for most veterans, those whose insurance has lapsed less than three months still can reinstate without a physical examination, provided their health is as good as when their insurance lapsed.

VA insurance officials said most veterans now must pass a physical examination to reinstate either term or permanent plans of insurance.

Veterans Administration today urged veterans who plan to attend college for the first time this fall under the G. I. Bill to apply immediately for their certificates of eligibility.

A veteran may obtain an application form for education or training by writing or visiting any VA regional or sub-regional office.

VA explained that when a school accepts a certificate of eligibility and forwards it to VA, it becomes the basis for payment of the veteran's tuition, fees and supplies to the school and the subsistence allowance.

to the veteran.

World War II veterans with 90 days of active service and a discharge other than dishonorable are eligible to apply for education and training under the G. I. Bill. Those with less than 90 days of service are eligible if they were discharged for a service-incurred disability.

4-H District Fair Serves 53 Counties

Fifty-three counties having about 27,000 members of 4-H clubs have been invited to take part in the 4-H Club District Fair at Lexington Sept. 1-2. Fayette county Future Farmers also will participate.

Complete departments have been provided for showing hogs, beef and dairy cattle, sheep, chickens, corn and other crops, vegetables, tobacco, canned and baked foods, clothing and room furnishings.

The dairy cattle show is always a feature of this youth fair, more than 100 head being sent from dozen counties.

Other features will include style shows, demonstrations, stock judging and educational and recreational events.

The fair is sponsored by the Fayette County 4-H Leaders Council, Fayette county chapters of Future Farmers, the Lexington Board of Commerce and the Man o' War Post of the American Legion.

August Is Time To Sow Alfalfa

Sowing 10 to 12 pounds of alfalfa seed to the acre is recommended by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. Higher rates are often used, but more than 15 pounds is more than necessary if seeding conditions are right.

Alfalfa may be seeded through August, or even later under certain conditions. When seeded in September it should be sown with small grain.

Proper condition of the seedbed is important, the college points out. It should be firm, and yet the surface should permit shallow covering of the seed.

Heap seedless grapes in the hollow of a pear half and serve with salad greens and cream cheese for refreshing summer dessert.

Fresh apricots add a delicious note to fruit salads. They may be halved and each hollow stuffed with a nutted cream cheese ball.

Praises Dobbs

Los Angeles, AP—It didn't take Jimmy Phelan, new head coach of the Los Angeles Dons of the All-America pro football conference, long to decide he had quite a ball player in tailback Glenn Dobbs. Phelan says "Dobbs is the greatest all-around football player I have ever coached or seen." The loop's most valuable player in 1946 with the Brooklyn Dodgers, Dobbs had a poor '47 season because his triple-threat ability was wasted in the T formation. This season the Dons have returned to the single wing.

Washington, D. C., AP—Sammy Baugh, regarded by most as the greatest passer in football history, began his grid career as an end. When the ace pitcher of the Washington Redskins of the National Football League was in high school in Temple, Tex., he threw the leather back to the passers with so much accuracy and speed that they threw to him that his coach shifted him to backfield, where he's remained.

Highway Safety Conference Will Be Held Nov. 9

Organization To Reduce Traffic Accidents To Formulate State-Wide Campaign

Frankfort, Aug. 17 — The Kentucky Traffic Safety Association set in motion its 1948-49 safety promotion campaign here this week with the selection of a date for a State-wide conference on highway safety. The association, meeting with Gov. Earle C. Clements' 10-man Coordinating Committee on Highway Safety, selected November 9, for the conference which probably will be held at Louisville. Also attending were approximately 150 representatives of civic and highway users groups interested in safety promotion.

Don Hill, Chicago, representative of the National Safety Council, recommended the association work toward an annual safety conference as an effective means of decreasing Kentucky's highway death toll.

"It has been definitely established that highway deaths are decreasing in states having an organized safety program," Hill told the group. "Kentucky needs a permanently organized State Safety Council, financed by an annual budget of at least $50,000."

The association nominated a new board of directors which will meet soon to elect new officers and formulate definite plans for the November conference.
